I see a father calm a child with loving care.
I see a father teach a child, no anger there.
I see a father lift a little one up to the Lord in pray'r.
I see a father, a righteous father with Priesthood full and fine and fair.

I see a father love a child and wipe a tear.
I see a father turn a child with mirth and cheer.
I see a father hold an infant close and shed a precious tear.
I see a father, a righteous father, with Priesthood silent, strong and clear.

And ev'ry child is a gift of love from a Father wise, Father up above.
Each precious gift is placed with care in hopes each father does his share.
Each little child with a spirit free chose to come to Earth, grow eternally.
A father's love another gift from God above.

I see a father give his son the Priesthood pow'r.
I see a father bless his daughter's darkest hour.
I see a father and a mother grow in righteousness each day
Because the father, a holy father, a righteous father honors Priesthood
