

BECOMING

Words and Music by C. Michael Perry

It isn't where we are.
It's never who we are.
It's always what we truly see
That leads us to our star.
Simple child, to teen, to grown adult
To live in God brings one result:
Through hopeful tears
That bless our days and lift our years,
We will believe.
Then we can grow.
And as we strive the Spirit let's us know
That all we've learned so far,
Is just one drop; there's more.
Becoming more than we were before.

Life — live each day and don't ignore
The many simple ways to our becoming more!

It's not a single step,
It's not a giant leap.
It's in the walk we choose to take;
In covenants we keep!
It won't cost us much, this paradise,
And if we're prudent, if we're wise,
It multiplies.
And then our vision magnifies!
When we believe.
Then Faith can thrive,
And we receive more knowledge as we strive.
Soon every thing we've gained adds up to so much more.
Becoming more than we were before.

Then, in that grand Eternity,
We find there's more, there's always more for us to be.

We do not stop,
We cannot cease,
Eternity will bring us peace!
And still there's more!
Becoming more!
